

Blame the Moon

I blame the moon for this rising tide
No-one told me you can drown inside
Yes tomorrow they'll use yesterday
To excuse the things I did today
To excuse the things I did today
To excuse the things I did today

'Cause I've been sailing too close to the wind
For far too long
Playing loose and fancy free
I've been living in the shelter of the calm before the storm
Now it's catchin' up with me
Now it's catchin' up with me
Now it's catchin' up with me

That's why I

Blame the moon for this rising tide
No-one told me you can drown inside
Yes tomorrow they'll use yesterday
To excuse the things I did today
To excuse the things I did today
To excuse the things I did today

'Cause I've been sailing too close to
the wind

For far too long

Playing loose and fancy free

I've been living in the shelter of the
calm before the storm

Now it's catchin' up with me

Now it's catchin' up with me

Now it's catchin' up with me

That's why I

Blame the moon for this rising tide
No-one told me you can drown inside
Yes tomorrow they'll use yesterday
To excuse the things I did today
To excuse the things I did today
To excuse the things I did today