

Southern Shores

I'm not a clever man, so how can I be sure?
That life is better living down on southern shores
The winter's kinder, but perhaps I'll miss the snow
The land is fatter, could I ever call it home.

I'm trading places, gotta' leave behind my friends,
I'm not complaining I'm just tryin' to make some sense
Of upping sticks and movin'

Down on Southern Shores

I'm just a northern boy,
Is life better down on Southern Shores?

I'm not a clever man, so how can I be sure?
That life is better now I'm down on southern shores
The winter's kinder, but sometimes I miss the snow
The land is fatter, can I ever call this home?

I've traded places and I've made a few good friends
I'm not complainin' I'm still tryin' to make some sense
Of upping sticks and movin'

Down on Southern Shores

I'm just a northern boy
Is life better down on Southern Shores?
